

Born in Colle Val d'Elsa in the province of Siena, mother of one child.

Graduated with honours in Architecture at the University of Florence.

She joined the Sansedoni Group in 2007, and has held positions of increasing responsibility, first as a Project Manager responsible for urban planning coordination and control, design and optimization of worksites relating to the property and development portfolio, and later as Head of the Group's Project, Facility and IT Management Division.

Previously he worked as a freelance architect in collaboration with leading architectural firms, with a focus on the restoration of historical and prestigious buildings, on whose behalf she managed important projects for public and private clients.